

Most Common Reasons Why Your Articles Are Being Rejected From Inclusion At Lodester.com!

Practical Guide:

Lodester.com is enjoying tremendous growth thanks to your content contributions. With over 3000 active authors, a number that is growing with leaps and bounds every day, you can well imagine the volume of articles we receive daily for inclusion in our directory.

Our goal is to become an article authority site. We are well on our way to achieving this level of success. As an authority site, it means that your articles are listed in every major search engine and that many webmasters want to post your articles on their sites or blogs. That translates into more backlinks, higher rankings and much more traffic for you.

That's why at Lodester.com, we are sticklers for making sure your articles adhere to our submission guidelines. Although we have already sent various emails regarding just this topic, we found that many of you still do not take the time to ensure your articles fit our criteria.

Therefore we've created this handy "How To Submit Your Articles To Lodester.com" ebook, which lists the top six reasons why articles are being rejected. Included with this practical guide, we offer you actual article examples as well as solutions to the problems.

If the sample articles listed here happen to be yours, please do not be offended. We do not mean to degrade or insult anyone. Our intent with this guide is to get you, the author, to submit articles to us that will be accepted into our directory first time around.

As has been said before and as we will continue to say:

"We much appreciate your contributions to our directory and ask that you continue to submit your content to us. In exchange, we will do what we can to ensure your articles get the most views and recognition."

The Six Most Common Reason For Article Rejection At Lodester.com:

1> Rejection Reason:

Article Not Properly Formatted:

This article got rejected from inclusion because it is one block of text. Articles need to consist of paragraphs.

Additionally, the title of this article is weak and does not correspond to the article.

The title indicates one (An) earache cure, yet the article lists two. A much better title would have been: "Two Natural Earache Cures." with each cure clearly identified.

P.S. Improper formatting is by far the most common reason why articles are being declined. Suggestion: preview your article for proper formatting before submission.

An Earache Natural Cure - [REDACTED]

An earache can occur at any time of day or night. You might not be prepared with the right medicine to help treat yourself or your child. If you find yourself in need of medicine, but you do not have any, here are some earache natural cures that you can use.

Garlic and onions are two of the most common foods with antibiotic abilities present in them. If you have onion or garlic you can find some quick relief.

Take a few garlic cloves and place them in sesame oil. Heat the oil on the stove until it becomes warm. You are going to put the oil into your ear so make sure that it isn't too hot. When the oil gets warm, lay down on your side, and place a few drops into your ear. Stay like this for a few minutes and then switch sides. If you do not have oil, you can just place garlic cloves over ears, but many people find the oil more effective.

Onions are used in a similar way. To use an onion, cook a whole onion until it gets soft. Wrap this onion in a thin piece of cloth, and then place it over your ear. Leave this for a few minutes, and then switch.

A similar practice has been done by the Chinese for years. They use peppermint leaves instead of onion or garlic. Press a few peppermint leaves to get the juice. Then use it as if it were the oil and garlic remedy.

Another earache natural cure can be done by using vitamins A and C. The ears need vitamins A and C. When you are doing these other remedies, eat a piece of fruit. Citrus fruits like Oranges, lemons and limes have a high volume of vitamins A and C. If these earache natural cures do not work you should go and see a doctor.

 The question isn't - 'how do I get rid of my earache?', it's - 'how do I do it quickly and easily?'. To find out the answer visit <http://www.cureearache.info>

2> Rejection Reason:

Product Promotion Not Allowed:

Clearly, the title of this article is directly related to a product/service. Indeed, the product name is repeated several times within the first two paragraphs of the article.

Additionally, the article has active links embedded, which in itself violates our submission term of not having active links in the body of the article.

Remember: only non-active, reference links are allowed in the body of the article. These links must blend in with the rest of the article and the full url, including <http://> must be provided.

3> Rejection Reason:

Article Not Formatted Correctly:

Here is yet another example of an article that is not formatted correctly. Additionally, the title of the article is weak.

A much better suited title for this article would have been: "Three Options To Repay Student Loans." or "Repaying Student Loans – 3 Solutions."

The red lines indicate the end and beginning of paragraphs, which must be separated by a blank line.

The screenshot shows a 'Review New Articles' interface. At the top, it says 'Change Category:' with a dropdown menu set to 'Finance:Loans' and an 'Accept' button. Below that, it says 'Enter decline reason or choose one from the select box below' with a dropdown menu set to '--- select ---' and a 'Decline' button. There are 'Edit' and 'Delete' buttons. The article title is 'Repaying Student Loans' followed by a redacted title. The article text begins with 'After surviving your tuition paying for 4 years, covering the price of books, and racking up some other payments on the credit cards, fun does not end when you graduate. In case you were not capable to get a scholarship or grant and had to choose a student loan, you need to begin repaying it. Part of controlling the money that you make after university involves learning how to avoid various repayment problems with the college loans. You should pay all of the student loans off regardless whether you did not like the college classes, did not find the job you wished after graduation, or even though you left university to pursue some other things. This is your responsibility to select a way on how to repay back your student loans.' The text continues with a 'grace period' section and a numbered list of options: 1. Consolidation, 2. A deferment, and 3. Forbearance. At the bottom, there is a note: ' Working as an editor at a custom writing help Bobbi Toyota has gained extensive experience in custom writing company online and custom writing paper online.'

4> Rejection Reason:

Keyword Stuffing Not Allowed:

This article is clearly violating our rule of not repeating the keyword of your article over and over again.

Additionally, this article repeats the title at the beginning of the article, changing only a few words, which is a submission violation in itself.

This article would be a great article with only this title. For example: "Style And Confidence With Plus Size Clothing For Women" .

Finally, the heading of this article does not adhere to our requirements that each first letter of each word in the title must be a capital letter.

The screenshot shows a 'Review New Articles' interface. At the top right, it says 'Ads by Google'. Below that, it says 'Change Category:' with a dropdown menu set to 'Fashion' and an 'Accept' button. Below that, it says 'Enter decline reason or choose one from the select box below' with a dropdown menu set to '--- select ---' and a 'Decline' button. There are 'Edit' and 'Delete' buttons. The article title is 'Plus size clothing for women , comfy yet fascinating|Plus Size Clothing For Women - The Dominance of Plus}' followed by a redacted title. The article text begins with 'Plus size clothing for women , comfortable yet captivating|Plus Size Clothing For Women - Full Figured Elegance|Plus Size Clothing For Women - The Supremacy of Plus}'. The text continues with 'Now that confidence means being comfortable with your body, plus size clothing for females has become popular. Females no longer have to go into crash diets only to suit in a wear they are yearning to have on in a particular banquet. Fat women no longer have to be contented with giant shirts and pants. They are now unrestricted to their own trend statements.' The text ends with 'Because of this, stylists have come up with a extensive display of stylishness and outline that present to larger females what had in the past been restricted to slim statistics. There are those that concentrate exclusively on clothes prepared specially for full-size bodied females. Nevertheless, there are still a number of females who find it awkward to go to these department stores. Fortunately, plus size shopping can be done through the internet. Particular sites have models dressed in the dress so that buyers can glimpse a

5> Rejection Reason:

Self Promoting Not Allowed:

Using someone's name in your article's title is considered self promoting, even if you are not the person being promoted, but rather the writer of the article.

In this example, self promoting is really evident as the person's name is repeated in every paragraph of the article.

The only time someone's name would be justified in a title is if that name is part of history.

Example: "Darwin's Tree Of Live Now Reality."

matt baca Internet marketing accomplishment - [REDACTED]

As I start to acquire more and more achievement online I sometimes search the internet for others who found triumph and ended up on Matt Bacak website. Here he talked about having on targeted focus was his key to triumph and it made a lot of sense.

When I read what Matt Bacak was talking about when it came to targeted focus I started to look back at my small business and really saw that having on targeted focus is the key to victory. Here is how you use on targeted focus for yourself to easily get to the next level for your venture.

We all know in internet marketing there is always new products coming out, and everyone is claiming to have the next new idea and skill that will take you to a life you always have dreamed about. Now i'm not saying that all of these claims are false or true, what I am saying is that it is very easy to get lost with all of the "noise" going on around you, and you need to have that on targeted focus just like Matt Bacak if you want to succeed.

6> Rejection Reason:

Article Rotator Not Allowed:

Article titles that end with a series of numbers are usually a strong indicator that these articles were submitted by article rotators.

In the past Lodester.com would remove these numbers if the rest of the article complied with our submission guidelines and approve the article for inclusion in our directory.

We will no longer do this since we receive far too many good articles that deserve our utmost attention. Hence forth, articles with a series of numbers at the end of the title will be declined.
